RE: Second Issue of the Office of Shared Accountability Information Capsule

I am pleased to disseminate our second issue of the Office of Shared Accountability Information Capsule. I hope that you enjoy this research brief, which discusses the topic of Reduced Class Size. This issue continues the topics the research services arm of the department will explore and share with district stakeholders.

The Office of Shared Accountability will continue to publish research articles offering current research to supplement insights in policy for a complex, multi-dimensional view of current practices in education. The next research brief will discuss a focus on students learning 21st Century Skills.

For further information, please contact Dr. Genelle Morris, Chief Accountability Officer.

Thank you.
