

O Brother Where Art Thou

Well, I journeyed a thousand miles, O brother where art thou?

I journeyed a thousand miles, O brother where art thou?

I'm lost and alone, will I ever reach my home?

Where did I go wrong, O brother where art thou?

If I was a captain of a ship out on the sea,

Come rain or hell's high water, nothing would detour me.

I've walked through blazing fire, bravely faced the lion's den,

To hold my sweet little angel in my arms again.

Chorus

I'm a man of constant sorrow, I've seen trouble all my days,

Am I bound to ramble, until i'm in my grave?

I'm like a blind man in darkness without you in my arms,

But light(ly) come(s) the child of morning, rosy fingered dawn.

Chorus

My mother she said, "Sonny, life is one long journey

And there will come a road that's crossed, have faith it won't be lost."

I remember the words she said when I'm sleeping in my bed,

Seen visions in my head, O brother where art thou?

Chorus
