Family is supposed to have your back,
Family is supposed to know you,
There are supposed to be no secrets with family,
There are supposed to be no lies with family,
Family is supposed to love each other unconditionally,
Family is supposed to be there for you,
There is supposed to be understanding in a family,
There is supposed to be trust in a family,
Family is supposed to be there for you,
Family is supposed to understand.

Unstoppable are the Sandstorms of swirling browns and grays
Weaving shades unknown
Into tapestries unraveling slowly
Before the speculating eyes
Of critics
And slowly
The leaves leave their trees
Turn brown and orange
Fall and crack under feet
That do not mind
Fond of the crackling sound
And aware
That soon it will be replaced
By snow
If not
There are always carpets
And death they go near.

In a human body testing what souls emit and what we embody if ones love's pure and true or ones soul is shoddy when this earth age is through

Be free from confusion.
Drive out every doubt,
Be happy and be stout.

More you learn, more passion
Leads you to more wisdom;
Makes you a gentleman,
Learn and gain Education.

Only true education,
Brings us to civilization,
